

Maternal Family Tree of Fredric Muller Vollmer

Records-First Corrected Extended Edition

Direct ancestry retained • Collateral households rebuilt from each parent couple downward • Gwen McCormick Hull restored to her proper place in the core McCormick sibling family

Research date: 30 August 2026

Privacy: dates, addresses, telephone numbers and email addresses for living people are intentionally omitted.

This edition supersedes the collateral-family section of the earlier “Extended” report. The 169-person direct-ancestor register and the Robert E. Lee research are retained as an appendix.

Executive findings

The earlier collateral extension had a methodological weakness: it discovered family structure largely through email threads. That favored frequent correspondents and made Gwen's branch look peripheral. This edition starts with the two great-grandparent couples, enumerates each child, then reconstructs every child's bounded household.

Gwendolyn "Gwen" McCormick Hull is one of the four children of Charles Ellsworth McCormick II and Eloise Slaughter. She is Anne's sister, Jan's maternal aunt, and Fredric's maternal great-aunt. Her household with Jim Hull and children Carey and Mark is displayed at the same structural level as Philip's and Charles's households.

Immediate maternal collateral result: Jan has one documented sibling, Bruce Muller. No spouse or children of Bruce were located in the reviewed sources. Therefore, this audit identifies no maternal first cousins of Fredric through Jan's sibling line—but does not claim that none ever existed.

Broader two-branch result: Jan has twelve identified first cousins across the Muller and McCormick branches. They are Fredric's first cousins once removed.

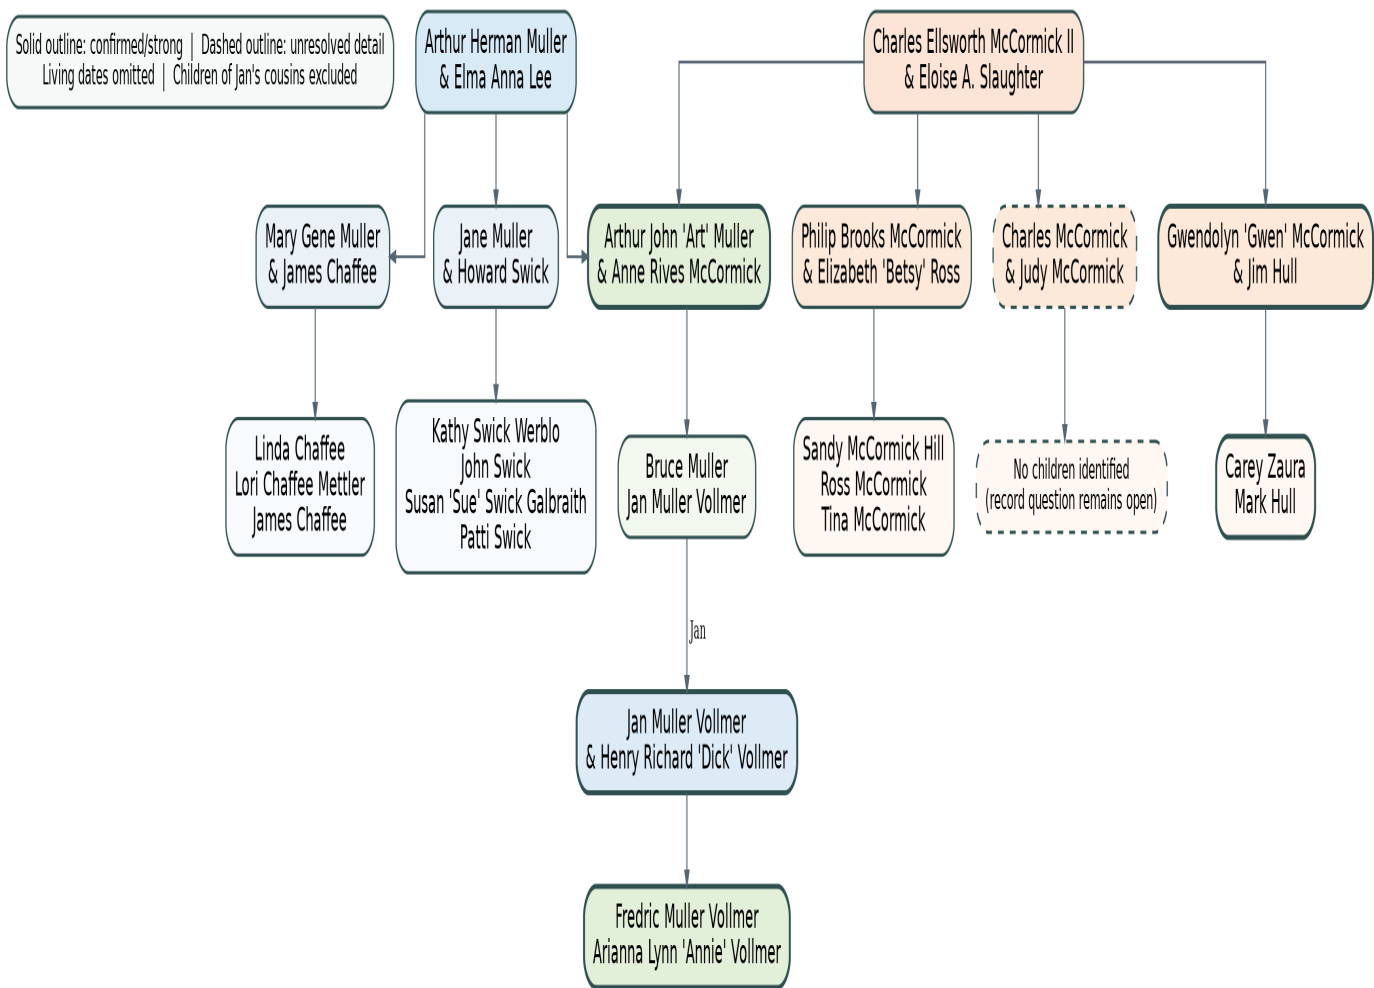

Cardinality: the bounded extension is not a cardinality problem. It contains 39 people including spouses and anchor ancestors. Expanding one more generation to every child of Jan's twelve cousins would substantially enlarge the tree and remains outside this edition.

Method and evidence hierarchy

Priorit y	Evidence class	How it is used
1	Civil, census, military, obituary and contemporary newspaper records	Anchor identity, marriage, dates and deceased household members.
2	Family-authored documents created for genealogy	The 1998 Art Muller chart is the principal topology source for the Muller collateral families, checked against later evidence.
3	Direct statements by a close relative	Used where public records do not name living descendants—for example, Jan's direct statement about Phil and his children and Carey's statement to her father.
4	Email recipient lists, surnames and household context	Corroboration only. They are no longer treated as sufficient proof of parentage by themselves.

Confidence grades retain the original report's definitions: A confirmed; B strong; C provisional; D traditional/disputed. A grade applies to the stated relationship, not automatically to every date or spelling associated with the person.

Corrected extended-family structure

The separate SVG in the package is the preferred zoomable version. Gwen's household is intentionally drawn with the same weight as the other McCormick sibling households.

Immediate maternal family

Arthur John “Art” Muller + Anne Rives McCormick Muller

Children: Bruce Muller and Jan Muller Vollmer.

Jan Muller Vollmer + Henry Richard “Dick” Vollmer

Children included in this family context: Fredric Muller Vollmer and Arianna Lynn “Annie” Vollmer.

Bruce Muller

Bruce is Fredric’s maternal uncle. The 1998 chart and reviewed collateral evidence do not identify a spouse or children for him. The tree records this as an unresolved negative search result, not as a claim of lifelong childlessness.

Household-by-household completeness audit

Arthur Herman Muller + Elma Anna Lee

Children in bounded scope: Mary Gene Muller; Jane Muller; Arthur John “Art” Muller

Finding: Complete sibling set used for this bounded extension.

Confidence: A - Confirmed Sources: S2; S3; S24

Remaining record problem: Locate original census/obituary copies for a fully record-cited household reconstruction.

Mary Gene Muller + James Chaffee

Children in bounded scope: Linda Chaffee; Lori Chaffee Mettler; James Chaffee

Finding: Corrected child set. “James,” not “Janet.”

Confidence: A - Confirmed / chart-led Sources: S2; CF3

Remaining record problem: Obtain a public obituary or census household image to corroborate all three children independently.

Jane Muller + Howard Swick

Children in bounded scope: Kathy; John; Susan “Sue”; Patti

Finding: Complete child set at the requested generation. Their children are second cousins to Fredric and intentionally excluded.

Confidence: A - Confirmed / chart plus contemporary corroboration Sources: S2; CF4

Remaining record problem: Verify Celeste’s surname and Patti’s later marital chronology.

Arthur John “Art” Muller + Anne Rives McCormick

Children in bounded scope: Bruce Muller; Jan Muller Vollmer

Finding: Jan has one documented sibling, Bruce. No children of Bruce were located in the reviewed sources.

Confidence: A - Confirmed Sources: S2; CF2

Remaining record problem: A negative finding is not proof Bruce had no descendants; obituary/probate records would settle this.

Charles Ellsworth McCormick II + Eloise A. Slaughter

Children in bounded scope: Anne Rives; Philip Brooks; Charles; Gwendolyn “Gwen”

Finding: Four-child sibling set. Gwen is a core sibling, not a peripheral correspondent.

Confidence: A - Confirmed Sources: S1; S8; S25; CF5; CF6; CF9

Remaining record problem: Locate one public obituary or census source that names all four children in one record.

Philip Brooks McCormick + Elizabeth “Betsy” Ross

Children in bounded scope: Sandy McCormick Hill; Ross McCormick; Tina McCormick

Finding: Complete child set at requested generation.

Confidence: A - Confirmed Sources: CF6; P1; P2

Remaining record problem: Living descendants beyond this generation intentionally excluded.

Charles McCormick + Judy McCormick

Children in bounded scope: No children identified

Finding: Couple included. No child is asserted or excluded without an obituary/probate source.

Confidence: A for couple; unresolved for descendants Sources: CF7; CF8

Remaining record problem: Resolve Charles's full name, vital dates, obituary and any descendants.

Gwendolyn "Gwen" McCormick + Jim Hull

Children in bounded scope: Carey Zaura; Mark Hull

Finding: Complete two-child household at requested generation; Carey is the one and only daughter.

Confidence: A - Confirmed Sources: CF9; CF10; CF11

Remaining record problem: Living dates omitted by design.

Corrections to the earlier extended edition

Issue	Earlier treatment	Corrected treatment
Gwen branch prominence	Earlier edition treated Gwen's household as secondary/provisional.	Gwen is displayed as one of the four children of Charles II and Eloise, coequal with Anne, Philip and Charles.
Carey and Mark parentage	Earlier edition used broad family-email grouping.	Carey's direct statement that she is Jim's one and only daughter, plus the Gwen/Jim/Mark family letter, supports Carey and Mark as the two children.
Chaffee child name	Earlier edition listed "Janet Chaffee."	The chart name is James Chaffee. Janet is removed everywhere.
Relationship terminology	Earlier narrative risked calling Jan's cousins Fredric's first cousins.	They are Fredric's first cousins once removed. Fredric has no identified maternal first cousins through Bruce in the reviewed evidence.
Negative evidence	Earlier wording could be read as saying Bruce or Charles had no children.	Now says "no children identified/located," explicitly distinguishing absence of evidence from evidence of absence.
Email weighting	Earlier extension discovered and inferred relationships mainly through email frequency and recipient lists.	Households are reconstructed from parent couples downward; the 1998 chart, public records and direct statements outrank recipient-list inference.
Scope/cardinality	Earlier scope was not explicit enough.	Includes Fredric's immediate maternal collateral family and Jan's aunts/uncles and first cousins on both parental branches. Descendants of Jan's cousins are excluded.

Remaining high-value record work

The bounded tree is structurally complete to the requested tier, but “complete” does not mean every detail is proven. These are the remaining questions most likely to alter the collateral tree:

Bruce Muller obituary/probate

Would determine whether a spouse or children existed and whether Fredric has maternal first cousins through Bruce.

Charles McCormick obituary/probate

Would settle his full name, dates and any descendants with Judy.

Mary Gene Chaffee public household record

Would independently corroborate Linda, Lori and James beyond the 1998 chart.

John Swick marriage record

Would establish Celeste’s full name.

Children of Jan’s twelve first cousins are intentionally not added. They are Fredric’s second cousins, and adding that generation should be treated as a separate bounded project rather than allowed to grow implicitly.

Appendix A — direct ancestry and Robert E. Lee inquiry

The following pages reproduce the prior revised direct-ancestry report. Its direct-ancestor register and Robert E. Lee addendum remain separate from—and are not changed by—the corrected collateral-family audit above.

Maternal Family Tree of Fredric Muller Vollmer

Direct maternal ancestors, beginning with Fredric and Jan Muller Vollmer

Research draft prepared 30 August 2026

This report distinguishes documented relationships from sourced compilations, provisional links, and inherited family traditions. Living people are named without dates.

Scope and method

This is a direct-ancestor tree for Fredric Muller Vollmer's mother, Jan Muller Vollmer. It follows both of Jan's parental branches: Arthur John Muller and Anne Rives McCormick Muller. It does not attempt to list every sibling, cousin, spouse of a collateral relative, or descendant. The accompanying spreadsheet and GEDCOM contain the structured relationships behind this report.

The starting framework came from family testimony, Arthur John "Art" Muller's 1998 reunion chart, Jan Muller Vollmer's correspondence, and Irene Slaughter Cooke's DAR worksheet. Public records and record-based compilations were then used to test and extend those lines. A name appearing in this report does not mean every date or every earlier parent is equally secure.

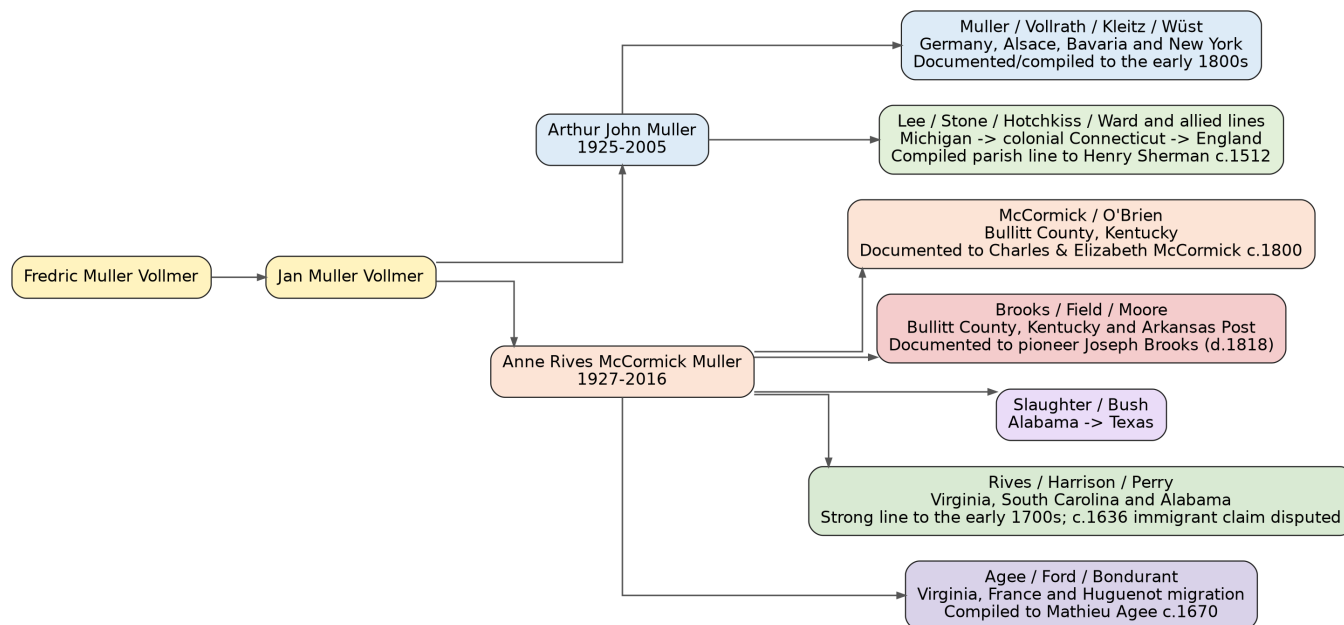

Evidence grades

Grade	Meaning
A - Confirmed	Relationship supported by close family evidence and/or a strong primary or near-primary record chain.
B - Strong	Well-supported by sourced local history, vital-record references, court abstracts, or a genealogical compilation that cites records.
C - Provisional	Plausible and useful as a research lead, but dependent on a family chart, one compilation, or incomplete proof.
D - Traditional / disputed	An inherited lineage or old claim for which modern researchers report disagreement or missing links.

What this research reaches

- Muller / Kleitz: the family chart reaches Lorenz Muller and Pauline Vollrath, and a separate Kleitz database reaches Lambert Kleitz of Alsace, Elizabeth Wüst of Bavaria, and her father Jacob Wüst.
- Lee / New England: Elma Anna Lee's line is securely connected to Hubbard Stone Lee. A sourced Ahnentafel extends several colonial Connecticut branches into English parish families; the oldest dated compiled ancestors here are Henry Sherman (born about 1512) and Simon Platt (born about 1533).
- McCormick / Brooks / O'Brien: Bullitt County records support the McCormick and O'Brien lines into the early 1800s, while the Brooks line reaches pioneer Joseph Brooks, whose will was proved in 1818.
- Rives / Harrison: the Rives chain is strong through the eighteenth century. The extension to a William Rives born about 1636 in Oxfordshire is preserved as a traditional, disputed lineage rather than a proved conclusion.
- Agee / Bondurant: the published Agee history carries Florence Estelle Agee's line to Huguenot immigrant Mathieu Agee, born about 1670 near Nantes, and Mary Ford's maternal line to Jean Pierre Bondurant. Mathieu's claimed parents Anthony Agee and Judith Chastain remain traditional.

Tree overview

A compact overview. The separate SVG file is a zoomable chart containing every person and parent link in the current research dataset.

1. Muller, Vollrath, Kleitz, Wüst and Lee

Fredric Muller Vollmer → Jan Muller Vollmer → Arthur John Muller → Arthur Herman Muller and Elma Anna Lee. Arthur John Muller's 1998 reunion chart is the essential family source for this branch. His Library of Congress collection independently anchors his identity and wartime service. The older Muller-Vollrath portion remains a research lead until German civil or church records are obtained.

Henrietta Kleitz is independently found in a family database as the 1871 New York-born daughter of Lambert Kleitz, born in Alsace in 1840, and Elizabeth Wüst, born in Bavaria in 1837. The same source names Elizabeth's father Jacob Wüst. The 1998 chart identifies Arthur Herman Muller's father as Christian August Vollrath Muller and grandparents as Lorenz Muller and Pauline Vollrath.

Elma Anna Lee's parentage is supported by modern vital-record indexing and Jan's family correspondence. Her father Elmer Ellsworth Lee is named among the children of Hubbard Stone Lee and Sarah M. Willitts in a family group that cites Michigan death records. From Hubbard backward, the Lee-Stone-Hotchkiss-Ward network is a sourced compiled pedigree centered in Guilford, Wallingford, and other Connecticut communities.

The earliest English generations in that compiled branch should be checked against the cited parish registers and published genealogies before being used for a lineage-society application. They are included because they are the farthest coherent direct-ancestor chain located, but they carry Grade C rather than Grade A.

2. McCormick, O'Brien, Brooks, Field and Moore

Fredric → Jan → Anne Rives McCormick Muller → Charles Ellsworth McCormick II → Charles Ellsworth McCormick I. Charles I was the son of Edward H. McCormick and Martha Ann “Annie” O’Brien. An annotated 1850 census places Edward with Charles and Elizabeth McCormick; the Shepherdsville cemetery inventory and O’Brien lineage article support Edward’s marriage and the O’Brien parentage.

Martha Ann O’Brien’s parents were Christopher O’Brien and Sophronia Simmons. Charles and Elizabeth McCormick’s own parents were not established. Likewise, Sophronia’s parents remain open; nearby Simmons households are suggestive but not proof.

Charles I married Mary Moore Brooks. Her father Abram Field Brooks was a son of Solomon Neal Brooks and Elizabeth Field. Solomon’s father was Joseph Anderson Brooks, who was in turn a son of pioneer Joseph Brooks and Nancy. The identity of Solomon’s mother is unresolved because the biography, will, and later compilations point in different directions. Mary P. “Mollie” Moore’s parentage also remains unresolved.

Historical context: the 1818 and 1845 Brooks wills explicitly describe enslaved people as estate property. That painful fact is part of the documentary record and should remain attached to the family history rather than being omitted.

3. Slaughter, Bush, Rives, Harrison, Perry and Agee

Fredric → Jan → Anne → Eloise/Elvie Slaughter McCormick → Isaac Bush Slaughter and Lula Arnelia Rives. Family usage calls Anne’s mother Eloise; the 1937 Agee book calls her Elvie A. Slaughter. The same book and the DAR worksheet agree that she was the daughter of Isaac Bush Slaughter Sr. and Lula Arnelia Rives.

Lula’s line runs through Robert Calhoun Rives and Florence Estelle Agee. Robert Calhoun’s parents were Robert Rives and Amelia Harrison. Court abstracts identify Amelia as a daughter of William Harrison and Ann Perry, granddaughter of Reuben Harrison, and maternal granddaughter of James Perry. These court-derived relationships are among the strongest older links in the tree.

Robert Rives was a son of Green Rives and Mary Ridley Jones. Green was a son of William Rives and Lucy Wyche; William was a son of Timothy Rives and Hester. The line from Timothy through Col. William, George, and the alleged immigrant William of Oxfordshire is much less secure. It is therefore labeled provisional or disputed, even though it appears on the DAR worksheet.

Florence Estelle Agee’s line runs through William Raiford Agee, Noah Agee, James Agee, and Mathieu Agee. The published family history describes Mathieu as a French Huguenot immigrant who arrived in Virginia about 1690 and married Ann Godwin/Goodwin. That history also connects Mary Ford’s mother Ann Bondurant to Jean Pierre Bondurant. Later claims that Mathieu’s parents were Anthony Agee and Judith Chastain are retained only as tradition.

Direct ancestor register

Generation 0 is Fredric. Generation 1 is Jan. Because the Lee branch contains pedigree collapse, a person can occupy more than one Ahnentafel position; the spreadsheet preserves all discovered numbers.

Open questions and best next records

Muller / Vollrath in Germany. Locate Christian August Vollrath Muller's naturalization, marriage, and German civil/church records to prove Lorenz Muller and Pauline Vollrath.

Mary Wilhelmina Ohmer. Obtain Elma Anna Lee's birth record and Mary's marriage/death records, then identify Mary's parents.

Sarah M. Willitts. Obtain the 1849 Oakland County marriage record and Michigan death/cemetery material; her parents are not established.

Charles and Elizabeth McCormick. Search Bullitt County marriage, probate, land, tax, and forge/employment records before 1850.

Sophronia Simmons. Use her marriage record, probate cases, and land adjacency to test the nearby Joseph and Rebecca Simmons household.

Mary P. "Mollie" Moore. Identify records for Mound Grove plantation near Arkansas Post and the Moore family who lived there before her 1872 marriage.

Solomon Neal Brooks's mother. Reconcile Joseph A. Brooks's will with the "Miss Miles" biography and the Standiford claim; test marriage chronology and guardianship records.

John Wesley Slaughter and Sarah C. Bush. Use Alabama marriage, probate, cemetery, and census records to extend both parents.

Rives immigrant generation. Do not accept the c.1636 Oxfordshire link without a modern proof argument using Virginia land, headright, probate, and English parish records.

Mathieu Agee's French parentage. Seek French Protestant records and contemporary immigration/land evidence; Anthony Agee and Judith Chastain are traditional only.

Lee English parish lines. Review the specific parish registers and published citations behind FamousKin before using the 1500s generations in a formal lineage application.

DNA evidence. Target descendants of unresolved female lines (Ohmer, Willitts, Moore, Simmons) for autosomal clustering rather than using unsourced online trees.

Closing assessment

This research draft contains 169 people in Fredric's maternal ancestor network, including Fredric and Jan. It is strongest from the present through the nineteenth century, and on the Rives/Harrison court-record chain. The deepest branches are useful, source-linked research hypotheses rather than final proof. The spreadsheet is the best working index, the GEDCOM can be imported into genealogy software, and the SVG provides a zoomable visual tree.

No online tree should be copied wholesale into a permanent master tree without downloading and evaluating the underlying records.

Research Addendum: Is Fredric Muller Vollmer Related to General Robert E. Lee?

Targeted review added August 30, 2026

Conclusion: No blood relationship to Robert E. Lee is presently proved. Your Lee line and Robert E. Lee's Lee line are separate documented American families. A much older English common ancestor cannot be excluded, but no defensible evidence currently connects them.

What was tested

This review did not assume that matching surnames establish kinship. It independently checked (1) Fredric's documented maternal Lee line, (2) Robert E. Lee's paternal Lee line back to the Virginia immigrant Richard Lee, (3) proposed parentage for Edward Lee of Guilford, Connecticut, (4) proposed English origins of both colonial families, (5) published Y-DNA information, and (6) whether another presently identified maternal branch supplied an obvious shared ancestor.

The Guilford generations are supported by the 1899 New England Historical and Genealogical Register treatment of Edward and John Lee and by Guilford vital-record compilations. The more recent Hubbard Stone Lee branch is additionally anchored by Michigan death records cited in compiled family-group research. The direct chain used in the main report remains Edward -> Ebenezer -> William -> Elon -> Hubbard -> Elmer -> Elma.

The weak point is before Edward Lee - not after him

The 1899 genealogy says Edward Lee (also recorded as Lee, Leigh, or Lees) came to Guilford about 1675 and says only that he was supposed to have been a brother of George Lee of Saybrook and John Lee of East Guilford; it further reports an older suggestion that Edward was "perhaps" a son of Hugh of Saybrook. That wording matters. It is not a proved parent-child statement. Later online trees that assign Edward an exact 1649 Saybrook birth and specific parents should not be treated as independent proof unless their underlying original record can be produced.

Hugh Lees himself is a real seventeenth-century Connecticut figure. Local-history work places a Hugh Lees among the East Saybrook/Lyme settlers, and another historical source lists him among Saybrook inhabitants still holding land east of the Connecticut River in 1672. This supports the existence of a New England Hugh Lees, but it does not prove he fathered Edward.

Why the Connecticut line does not merge into Robert E. Lee's Virginia line

- 1. Richard Lee I has a separately documented family. His surviving will names sons John, Richard, Francis, William, Hancock, and Charles and daughters Betsey/Elizabeth and Anne. Edward is not among them. The Lee Family Digital Archive likewise describes six sons and two daughters surviving infancy.
- 2. Edward Lee belongs to the New England record trail. The earliest genealogical treatment places him in Guilford about 1675, with associations to Saybrook-area Lees. Nothing located in this review identifies him as a son, brother, nephew, or cousin of Richard Lee of Virginia.
- 3. A same-era Hugh Lee in Virginia is a trap for researchers. Virginia records contain a Hugh Lee in Northumberland County at the same time that Connecticut records contain Hugh Lees of Saybrook/Lyme. Published Virginia research explicitly notes that relationships among the various early Virginia Lee families cannot simply be assumed. These people should not be merged merely because of their names.
- 4. Richard Lee's English ancestry is itself unresolved. The Lee Family Digital Archive states that Richard was born in England but that attempts to tie him securely to one of the English Lee families have been unsuccessful. Older Coton/Shropshire pedigrees remain debated. Consequently there is no sound English pedigree on Richard's side to which Edward or Hugh Lees of Connecticut can presently be attached.
- 5. No alternate shared ancestor surfaced in the current maternal tree. The presently identified 169-person maternal tree was compared against the standard named ancestors of Robert E. Lee through the Lee, Carter, Bland, Randolph, Grymes, Jennings, Moore, and Spotswood families. No same person presently appears in both pedigrees. Similar surnames such as Moore or Hill are not evidence of identity.

What DNA can - and cannot - resolve

Published work on the Virginia Lee DNA project reports Y-DNA from two documented all-male descendants of Richard Lee I - one through Hancock Lee and one through Charles Carter Lee, Robert E. Lee's brother. Their 43-marker results matched at 42 of 43 markers and were assigned to haplogroup I1a. This provides a genetic benchmark for Richard Lee's paternal line.

Fredric cannot test this particular question with his own Y chromosome because his Lee descent passes through Elma Anna Lee and then through Arthur Muller and Jan Muller Vollmer. The decisive genetic experiment would be to locate a living male who descends father-to-son from Edward Lee of Guilford (preferably through the same Ebenezer-William-Elon-Hubbard branch), obtain a modern Y-DNA test, and compare it with the confirmed Richard Lee paternal-line cluster. A mismatch would exclude a shared paternal Lee ancestor within the genealogically relevant era; a close match would justify a new documentary search for the common ancestor.

I did not locate a published Y-DNA result in the sources reviewed that was both explicitly traced to Edward Lee of Guilford and documented strongly enough to make that comparison now.

Genealogical verdict

Current status: NOT PROVED RELATED. There is no evidence supporting a colonial-American connection between Fredric's Edward Lee family of Connecticut and Robert E. Lee's Richard Lee family of Virginia. Because the English parentage of Edward is unproved and Richard's own English origin remains disputed, it would be too strong to say the families were certainly unrelated in medieval or early-modern England. The accurate statement is: no blood relationship to Robert E. Lee has been demonstrated, and the evidence presently favors two distinct colonial Lee families.

Research note: Genealogy is an evidence-ranking exercise. Public family trees were used only as leads unless they identified underlying records. The conclusion above can change if an original record proves Edward Lee's parentage or if a documented paternal-line Y-DNA comparison is obtained.
